

Bella Thorne Subject of Boob Job Rumors As She Shifts Focus On Her Bum

Chanel Adams | October 1, 2016

Bella Thorne has become the center of boob job rumors again, thanks to a new report via Celebrity Dirty Laundry. It's probably because of this latest photo of the former Disney star in a bikini, which she posted to her Instagram page earlier this week.

Now, rumors are circulating that Bella Thorne is trying to shed her good-girl image in hopes of becoming the next Kylie Jenner of the acting world. According to a report via OK! Magazine, Thorne recently had secret breast augmentation surgery in order to enhance her looks and land major movie roles, as mentioned by Celebrity Dirty Laundry.

"Bella's chest appears to be enlarging!" Dr. Anthony Youn, who has not worked on the 18-year-old starlet, revealed to OK! Magazine back in May. "I suspect that she's had a breast augmentation, taking her from an A to a C."

Dr. Anthony Youn added that "overall they look fantastic, and fit her frame well. Kudos to her plastic surgeon!" The tabloid then hinted that Thorne has been getting major body confidence from her new look by sharing racy photos on social media. In an interview with Teen Vogue, Thorne admitted that she started to develop breasts later in life when she was 17.

"I've always been flat-chested. It is only this year, at 17, that I started to develop boobs. I mean, finally!" Bella Thorne bluntly told Mickey Rapkin. "I was working on a film, and they wanted me to look older. The wardrobe person was like, 'Put padding in your bra.' I'm walking on set. The director picked something off the ground and—in front of everyone—he goes, 'I think this fell out.' I was mortified. It was literally a pad from my bra."

Speaking of breasts, Bella posed braless for a photoshoot that flaunted both her chest and abs, reports Hollywood Life. Back in August, Bella gave her fans an eyeful on her Snapchat account when she posed in just a pair of skinny jeans and a red bomber jacket, which was opened and exposed to show off her breasts.
