No Makeup Brushes, No Problem

The quickest and easiest way to do your makeup is very "hands-on," if you know what we mean.

For a Clear Complexion

Abandon your beauty blender and skip the heavy liquid foundations that require super-precise application. Instead, opt for a tinted moisturizer that you can slather on with your fingers, and turn to concealers in stick form to touch up any trouble spots.

Forget your powder bronzer. Give your brush a break by swiping this stick just below your cheekbones and blending well.

If you're a contour devotee, a thinner, more precise pencil will help you get the contrast you want. Nudestix were invented to be blended using fingers alone, so contouring has never been more intuitive.
