15 of the Best Cruelty-Free Beauty Gifts

by AMANDA MONTELL

The holidays are a joyful time of family bonding, sleeping in, and eating way too many helpings of mashed potatoes. But you know what really puts a damper on the holiday spirit? Knowing the beauty gifts you gave all your friends and family members were tested on animals. (Yikes, yes, we went there.) How much fun can you really have on the last night of Hanukkah when you know some bunny somewhere is dealing with an eyeful of painful chemicals?

Okay, I know, it's the holidays, let's not talk about animal torture. Instead, let's all make a pact to buy only cruelty-free gifts this year. If you do it, we'll do it!

This challenge actually isn't hard at all, because so many of your favorite cruelty-free cosmetic brands came out with bomb gift sets this year. We're talking adorable makeup kits from Too Faced, sparkly nail polish duos from Deborah Lippmann, luxurious skincare sets from Drunk Elephant, and more.

So let's not waste our time with beauty gifts that test on animals, deal? Just keep scrolling for 15 awesome cruelty-free beauty gifts for every budget!

Nudestix #BerryNudeLips Mini Set ($24)

Nudestix is one of our favorite cool-girl brands, and anyone at Byrdie HQ would be thrilled to receive this limited edition gift set. The holiday trio comes with mini lip and cheek pencils in cream, gel, and matte formulas. These products glide on like butter, last forever, and are incredibly versatile.
