

Three Makeup Brands You Need To Try ASAP

We all know being a college student is hard. We're constantly rushing to go to class, work, club meetings, and events during the week. There's just no time to put on makeup in the mornings. However, these new cosmetic companies have made applying makeup so much easier, giving us exactly what we need: easy and natural make up routines for crazy those mornings.

1. Nudestix

Slogan - "Go nude, but better."

Nudestix was created by two teenagers Ally and Taylor Frankel, whose mother has been a chemical engineer for makeup companies like MAC. Growing up surrounded by makeup influenced them to create their own makeup by going for a completely natural and comfortable look for every girl who doesn't want to go out in the world not feeling like themselves. The makeup crayons lets you easily apply make up with your fingertips. No need for brushes!
