These Makeup Blurring Sticks Are Pretty Much IRL Photoshop

January 11, 2017 By: Marianne Mychaskiw

Designed to impart a soft-focus finish either over or under makeup, these translucent sticks have the amazing ability to bring Photoshop's blur tool into the real world, leaving behind poreless, line-free skin. Where foundations and concealers fail you (and ultimately crease), one quick swipe immediately fills in wrinkles on contact, and can be used either over or under your makeup. Even if you're going totally bare-faced, these products won't leave any obvious traces, and have such an airy texture, you'll probably forget you even have anything on. 5. NUDESTIX BLUR PENCIL

This tiny pencil fits perfectly into even the smallest clutches, and works wonders at filling in lines, but we especially love to use it as a primer for our matte liquid lipsticks for its ability to hide flaws and deliver ample hydration.
