

NUDESTIX

HELLO GIGGLES

Nudestix's new highlighters will make getting that glow so much easier

By: Isaac Bronwyn – March 8, 2017

Figuring out the right highlighter can be a deeply involved process. You need the right shade, the right price, a formula that complements your skin type, and after all of that you still have to figure out how to apply it. This is why Nudestix's new highlighters appeal to us so much. Rather than dealing with the mess of a palette, you can smoothly apply with a crayon highlighter stick.

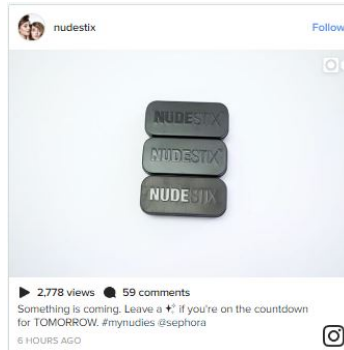

Now we can all achieve that early summer dewy glow without struggling to remember the last time we washed our brush (or beauty blender) before applying.

The new Nudestix Nudies All Over Face Color Bronze + Glow highlighters will be released through the Sephora website tomorrow and we can't wait!

NUDESTIX

The Bronze + Glow highlighters will come in three shades: Illumi-Naughty (a light lavender pearl); Hey, Honey (classic gold bronzer) and Brown Sugar, Baby (a deeper bronze shade). Each of them will cost $30 a pop and the formula can be directly applied to your cheeks via crayon. The other side of the crayon includes a brush if you need extra blending action.

We're more than ready to apply this new trinity of glow to our cheeks.

Be sure to keep your eyes posted on the Sephora website for when they drop tomorrow!

<http://hellogiggles.com/nudestixs-new-highlighters-will-make-getting-that-glow-so-much-easier/>