the STRIPE

TRY IT, LOVE IT.

One of my favorite parts of my job (far and away) is all of the beauty samples I get to test and try for the blog. If you've been reading here long, you know that I take the testing process very seriously. Anything featured here is tried + tested for at least two weeks, and I really pride myself on providing you with quality beauty recommendations. In life I am like that as well... I'm the girl that all my friends go to for beauty product recommendations – especially when it comes to skincare.

Travel is one of the times I love to do my testing the most. When packing for a trip I will pack my usual favorites, but also sample sizes of new things I've been wanting to test. This might sound a little nerdy but it's exciting to come home at the end of a day of sight-seeing to have something new to play with, product-wise.

When QVC reached out to see if I'd like to review their new TILI box, I knew it would be the perfect thing to pack for my Europe trip. TILI stands for Try It, Love It. The box features eight products (including 3 full sized products) and retails for $22 + $3 shipping. Every quarter, they launch a different box. It isn't a subscription box, but rather, a fun new way to discover all of the amazing new beauty brands carried at QVC. (It also makes for a great gift.) Out of all the sample boxes out there I would say this is the best one I've tried. You get a lot for the price, and it's all stuff you actually want!

Keep reading to see what was included. My friend Aly took these photos of me in our hotel and we both enjoyed getting to test these products while we were in London!

NUDESTIX

NudeStix Lip/Cheek pencil – A really pretty, wearable nude lip color. I'm wearing it in the photos here. It's like my own lip color but a little bit better, which is what I want when I'm looking for an everyday lipstick.
