6 Beauty Sticks to Use to Cut Down on Product Clutter

April 6, 2017 | By Caitlin Miller

Alert to our fellow beauty hoarders: it's spring cleaning season! And you know what that means. That vanity you promised yourself you'd finally get clean is front and center. We already told you some amazing ways to tackle that stash, but if part of your on-going to-do list is to cut down on product clutter, click on to see compact stick products that make consolidating your beauty stash so much easier.

NUDESTIX

Urban Decay Meltdown Makeup Remover Cleansing Oil Stick

Urban Decay's new spring launches could not have come at a better time. This oil stick doubles as a makeup remover and a cleanser for a streamlined routine—and vanity. The unique balm transforms to a liquid oil and then to microfoam for a 3-in-one experience.

Shiseido White Lucent Onmakeup Spot Correcting Serum

Sure, this spot corrector conceals blemishes and dark spots instantly, but it also delivers SPF 25 for daily protection and a spot-erasing technology to gradually reduce darkness over time. Talk about a skincare-meets-makeup time saver.

NUDESTIX

NUDESTIX Nudies All Over Face Color Bronze + Glow

NUDESTIX is already known for their natural-looking eye and lip sticks, but their latest launch is a must for makeup multitaskers. Nudies are skin true do-it-all color sticks that brighten, bronze, and highlight. Use them on your eyes, lips, and even cheeks for a super natural look.

Wander Beauty Rise and Prime – Balm and Primer Duo Balm

How could we possibly make a do-it-all list and not include Wander Beauty? The brand's new Rise and Prime duo is a true time and space saver thanks to the dual ended balm and primer. On one end there's the ultra-hydrating balm for the face, lips, or body. On the other, there's the a one-color-suits-all primer that blurs imperfections, reduces the appearance of pores, and leaves skin smooth for makeup.

NUDESTIX

Lancome LE Duo – Contour & Highlighter Stick

As much as we adore our highlighting palettes, sometimes they just take up too much space. Lancôme's contour and highlighter stick helps carve out the perfect cheek bones, jaw line, and more, all in one handy stick.

trèStique Matte Color and Shiny Balm Lip Crayon

It's quite easy to accumulate quite the lippie collection, but trèStique is aiming to help your hoarding problem (just a little) with this matte lipstick and balmy crayon duo. Use it to moisturize lips and get a touch of color. Saving space in your bag is just an added bonus!
