May 16, 2017 | By Monique Valeris

If you're a fan of the snooze button, you know how easy it is to spend the morning scrambling to achieve a flawless makeup look. Applying blush (without the clown factor), blending out eye shadow, and finding a low-maintenance lip color don't warrant the stress when you have a lengthy to-do list to tackle come 9 a.m.

We've dug into our stash to share our favorite multipurpose makeup sticks to get you out the door faster — and save room in your beauty bag. From lip-and-cheek combos to a primer that doubles as a concealer (genius!), your morning primping routine will no longer be your reason for running late. Now you'll have even more time to hit snooze.

Nudestix Cream Lip + Cheek Pencil

Apply this pigmented matte pencil on your lips, then sweep it across your cheeks for a nice pop of color. You have your pick of eight neutrals, but what's especially satisfying is the convenience of the mirror and pencil sharpener included in the metal tin packaging.
