KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

2010

As Danielle Staub makes her return to The Real Housewives of New Jersey after a five-season absence, fans should brace for a slightly different look than they remember. The Naked Truth author, 55, tells Life & Style she “loves her Botox” and that the fillers she got in 2013 “have lasted all these years – thank God!” What do the experts think? Atlanta plastic surgeon Dr. Benjamin Stong, who, like the other doctors quoted here, has not worked with Danielle, sees evidence of the fillers the reality star describes. “Her upper cheeks are fuller and more youthful,” he says, “and her jawline and chin also have increased volume.” Cosmetic plastic surgeon Dr. Yoel Shahar also notes a bit of extra plumpness in Danielle’s face. But overall, he says, “The changes are positive.” Beverly Hills plastic surgeon Dr. Ben Talei concurs. “The signs of surgical or nonsurgical tweaks are minimal,” he says. “She looks lovely.”

Danielle's

NOW

EYEBROWS

Danielle admits to Botox injections, and Dr. Talei sees them at work in her brow area. "The shape of her brows has changed," he says. Price tag: $300-$600.

EYES

"Her eyes look smaller because of under-eye filler," says Beverly Hills dermatologist Dr. Ava Shamban. The estimated cost is $800-$1K.

CHEEKS

Dr. Stong notes increased fullness in Danielle's cheeks. "This could be achieved with facial fillers like Voluma [up to $1.3K] or a fat transfer procedure [$5K]."

LIPS

Juvéderm may be responsible for an increase in lip volume, Dr. Talei speculates. "The lower lip has a little bit of a bulge," he observes. Cost: $450-$600.
