

Today on Inside Edition: Families Escape California Wildfires; Celebrities Lose Their Homes

By Inside Edition Staff | November 12, 2018

Deadly, fast-moving wildfires raging across California have forced hundreds of thousands of people to flee from their homes.

Harrowing video shows a crying mother and daughter trying to escape in their car as flames lick at the side of the road. Thankfully they managed to escape to safety, and Inside Edition spoke to them about the terrifying ordeal.

Celebrities are among those to lose their homes to fire in Southern California, including Gerard Butler and Miley Cyrus. Inside Edition was there as Dr. Robert Huizenga from "The Biggest Loser" returned to his $10 million mansion to find nothing but charred debris.

Meanwhile, in Wisconsin, a group of high school boys are facing criticism for apparently giving a Nazi salute in a junior prom photograph. Hear what one boy who appears uncomfortable and refuses to take part had to say.
